

QUALITATIVE METHODS SUPPORT FORUM

Clinical Research Centre (CRC), Faculty of Health Sciences

The CRC offers support to staff and students in the Faculty of Health Sciences conducting clinical research. This includes facilitating informal meetings between those undertaking specific clinical-research functions or activities. The intention is for us to support each other, particularly as some study team members can feel isolated in their role.

Those using qualitative methods related to clinical research (or otherwise) get together monthly to informally raise issues about their work or studies they would appreciate advice on, review a journal article, practice giving a presentation of their work, network or just chat about this interesting field!

Please feel free to join us at our next forum:
