

Apple iPad Educator Session

See how iPad brings lessons, ideas and education to life with International Keynote speaker Lars Levin.

Increasingly, many higher education institutions around the world are embedding the use of iPads in teaching and learning.

Join us as Lars Levin, Apple Distinguished Educator and Apple Professional Development Consultant shares insights about content development, the newly launched iTunes U course manager in South Africa and best practice on the implementation and effective use of iPad in Education.

About Lars Levin

Lars is a dedicated teacher and former vice principal of Bakkeskolen, Fredericia, Denmark with over 15 years experience in the Danish Primary School sector.

As a school ICT coordinator and as a local advisor for Fredericia, he has helped design the initiative that gave every teacher and almost half the students in primary school an iPad as a platform for exploring mobile learning.

Lars is responsible for the training of schools and institutions that wish to use iTunes U as their learning platform in Denmark. He has been an Apple Distinguished Educator for 5 years and is an Apple Professional Development Consultant.
